EDWARD D. STONE

A Crittenden Co., Boy in Cumberland University.

Hon. Edward D. Stone, member of the law department of Cumberland University, delivered the opening speech of the University Debating Club, in the presence of a large body of Literary and Law students in Caruthers Hall Friday evening, Sept. 22nd.

The subject for argument was, "Resolved that United States Senators should be elected by direct vote of the people."

Mr. Stone's argument was strong and directly to the point. In part, he said: "The people of the United States are proud of their history. It is a touching and noble story. The American youth knows something of the constitutional history and the annals of other hands, his children have delighted in the half-fabulous legends by which they explain their origin. He is especially acquainted with the history of the older republics and of countries where constitutional liberty has in other years found its home.

I believe in our National charters. I am glad that every American can proudly call that roll of honor without reservation, apology or mission.

From Virginia came Jefferson and Washington to frame and sign the constitution. Sherman, of Conn.; Reed, of Delaware; Clymer and Wilson, of Tennessee, near them were those sweet-spirited and able counselors and orators; Arthur Middleton, of S. C.; Lee, of Virginia, then came John Witherspoon, of Princeton college, a disciple of Christ, and the Christian doctrine of Civil Liberty. John Penn, the sturdy patriot of N. C. Hall, of Georgia, Chas. Parson and Stone, of Maryland, Floyd and Livingston, of N. Y., and a number of others more than a century ago launched into discussion, the cause of electing United States Senators by legislative.

By this argument, Mr. Stone was placed as the leading speaker at the Hermitage, the home of Andrew Jackson, where the students of the University will meet in November, 1911, to honor the name of a past hero of the southland.—A Student.

All For the Road Issue.

It was a notable fact that every speaker from Marion, Crittenden county, at the meeting at the court house last week was an enthusiastic supporter of the issuance of bonds to construct good roads, because all agreed that roads are a necessity and that it is economy to borrow the money and buy what you need. Among the speakers were the prominent Republicans of Crittenden county, who took the lead in advocating the bond issue, viz: Hon. Jas. Moore, ex-Representative of Crittenden and Livingston and eight years county judge of Crittenden. John A. Moore, the present republican county attorney of Crittenden. Wm. Yandell, the old time Republican leader of Crittenden and one of the most successful business men in the county, followed by Judge J. F. Gordon, our circuit judge, all of whom were outspoken in their most enthusiastic endorsements of issuing bonds and borrowing the money and building good roads. It is the only way. Sad
